What: Strategies to Strengthen Executive Function Skills

When: Tuesday, January 10, 2016
7 - 9 pm

Where:

West Essex Regional Middle School – Library
(The middle school is located behind the high school)

Description

Executive Function refers to the cognitive processes, including working memory, organization, and time management, that everyone uses to organize and act on information. On January 10, from 7-9 p.m. , these skills will be discussed along with strategies that can be implemented to strengthen and enhance students' Executive Function within the school environment. William Presutti, Director of the Regional Center for Learning Disabilities at the Florham Park Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University will present the strategies and tools, including technology tools, which will assist in supporting your child's improvement in classwork , homework, and study skills needed for tests and exams. This presentation will address the needs of ALL middle and high school students.
